Name: _____ Date: _____

will

Across

2. A hypermedia information storage system which links computer-based resources around the world

5. a way of storing your favorite sites on the Internet

7. (dots per inch) the way the resolution of display and printing is measured

8. open source, server-side HTML scripting languaage used to create dynamic Web pages

13. A single character in a numbering system. In decimal, digits are 0 through 9

16. The command to log on to another computer on the Internet

17. A term that applies to programs/applets (macros and intelligent agents) used on the Internet

18. real-time, synchronous, text-based communication via computer

20. A universal resource locator (a computer address) that identifies the location and type of resource on the Web

Down

1. specialized software, such as AltaVista and Yahoo, that lets WWW browser users search for information on the Web by using keywords, phrases, and boolean logic

3. A method of identifying computer addresses

4. A destructive computer program that replicates itself throughout your computer's hard drive and and memory

6. The Web's integration of audio, video, graphics and text

9. Information that is instantly published to a web site

10. a computer language, developed by Sun Microsystems, that lets you encode applications, such as animated objects or computer programs, on the Internet

11. A device that connects your computer to the Internet, when you are not connected via a LAN

12. A global network of thousands of computer networks linked by data lines and wireless systems

14. The hypertext transfer protocol (http) that enables html documents to be read on the Internet

15. A software program that allows users to access the Internet

19. A type of text code in Hypertext Markup Language which, when embedded in a document, allows that document to be read and distributed across the Internet

Create your own puzzle at WordMint.com or print one of our 500,000+ pre-made word searches, crosswords, and more.