

Name: _____

Date: _____

Latin American Instruments

Across

1. A long drum played with the palms of the users hands

2. A pair of small copper-shelled drums that sound like tom-toms.

7. Produces a dull, deep thud and is played using wooden sticks

8. The sound is created from the movement of many beads strung together

9. A hollow instrument with 1 open end and occasionally a thumb hold underneath

11. An instrument consisting of 2 different sized bells connected by a strip of metal curved into a "u" shape

12. 2 medium sized drums that produce an energetic, bouncy sound

13. 2 wooden sticks clapped together

14. Produces an eerie, breathy, flute-like sound.

Down

3. Produces a scrapey wood like sound when it's bumpy surface is scrapped with a stick.

4. An idiophone that sounds like little beads are being shaken in a container

5. This instrument has 10 strings in 5 pairs and was originally made from armadillo shell.

6. As well as being used as an instrument it is used for farmers to know where abouts their cattle are.

10. An aerophone consisting of a mouth piece 6 finger holes and 1 thumb hole