

Gossip and Rumours

Across

4. To try to get back at someone is to take _____
6. Many things about our lives are public, but other things are _____
11. A fan does this to air; people do it to rumours.
13. When people tell you rumours they know aren't true, they are spreading _____
14. Old ones include "King Arthur," modern ones include "The Rate in the Coke Bottle." _____
15. A comedian tells these, and they can also be the source of many rumours.

16. Spreading rumours or lies about someone in order to intentionally cause harm is called _____

17. You do this to a rumour to see if it's true.

18. A made-up story, or the opposite of fact.

Down

1. This emotion makes people scream in scary movies, and can make others believe in wild rumours.
2. Your computer gets this from an electrical socket; people try to get it by spreading rumours about their rivals.
3. Something you feel when people spread your personal information as gossip.

5. It's the largest of the Great Lakes, or what one person might want to feel by spreading rumours about another.

7. Because they're in the public eye, _____ deal with more hurtful gossip and rumours than most of us.

8. A feeling that there's nothing interesting to do, this can lead to people spreading rumours.

9. Something you eat dinner off of, or a type of gossip that's not as harmless as it seems.

10. This is similar to slander, but with written words instead of spoken ones.

12. An emotion similar to envy that makes some people spread rumours about others.