

Com 1010 Chapter 1

Across

- 3. communication that takes place real time
- 4. communication within a small group of people
- 9. a message that refers to another message
- 12. messages sent back to the speaker reacting to what is said
- 13. act of receiving messages (listening or reading)
- 15. tangible or concrete environment in which communication takes place

17. communication between people through computers (texting or emailing)

18. communication that does not take place in real time

19. messages with more than one meaning

20. communication within an organization

Down

1. noise that is external to both speaker and receiver

2. act of producing messages (speaking or writing)

5. medium through which the message passes

6. information that you provide before sending your primary messages

7. communication addressed to an extremely large audience, mediated by audio and/or visual means

8. communication with two or a few people

10. communication of a speaker with an audience

11. anything that interferes with you receiving a message

14. communication with oneself

16. communication through questions and answers