

Date: _____

[illegible]

4. a person who uses existing computer scripts or code to hack into computers, lacking the expertise to write their own.

7. an attempt to make a machine or network resource unavailable to its intended users

10. security identification device like facial recognition and fingerprints

1. A scam where an intruder tries to gain access to a users system by pretending to be them

3. an individual with extensive computer knowledge whose purpose is to breach or bypass internet security or gain access to software

5. the activity of defrauding an online account holder of financial information by posing as a legitimate company

8. zombie army or a network of private computers infected with malicious software