Cord Blood Gases

Across
2. This must be expelled from the sample once you have collected all the necessary blood
4. The cord should be wiped with this type of prep pad before drawing blood
7. If you are not able to immediately hand off the blood, the sample must be placed on this
8. ABG results illustrate the ____________________ status of the infant
9. T/F: Obtaining a blood gas is a sterile procedure
10. The person who runs the blood gas testing

Down
1. Occasionally the doctor may want both venous and arterial samples, however, most often they want this type
3. It is important to replace the needle with this after the blood is collected (2 words)
5. The arteries are ______________ than the vein
6. As with all samples, you must do this before handing it off