

Name: _____

Date: _____

Speech Crossword

Across

2. Presenting another person's language or ideas as one's own.
 5. A hormone released into the bloodstream in response to physical or mental stress.
 7. The type of plagiarism in which somebody steals his or her work from two or three sources.
 9. The person who receives the speaker's message.
 10. Organized thinking about such things as the logical relationships among ideas.
 11. Anything that impedes the communication of a message.
 13. Anxiety over giving a speech.

15. The means by which a message is communicated.

17. The time and place in which speech communication occurs.

18. The belief that one's own group or culture is superior to all others.

19. A speaker has great ethical _____ to make sure that no one is offended.

20. The use of language to defame, demean, or degrade individuals or groups.

Down

1. When a speaker vividly pictures himself or herself giving a successful presentation.

3. Person who is presenting an oral message.

4. Messages sent from a listener to a speaker.

6. A decision weighing a potential course of action against a set of ethical standards or guidelines.

8. Whatever a speaker communicates.

12. The branch of philosophy that deals with issues of right and wrong in human affairs.

14. The type of plagiarism in which one steals his or her speech entirely from another source.

16. Whenever you quote someone directly.