

Food Webs

Across

- An example of a decomposer that is a fungus.
- A smaller carnivore in the ocean with flippers and whiskers.
- A producer which herbivores graze on
- A decomposer (insect, fungus, or bacteria) breaks down animals or plants that are not live, but _____.
- A predator that hunts at night on silent wings.
- an animal that feeds on dead plant material.
- The tallest herbivore on Earth.
- A omnivore in the bear family (2 words).

Down

- Photosynthesis - plants make their own food using _____, water and carbon dioxide.
- An animal that is chased and eaten by another animal.
- A carnivore in the dog family (2 words).
- The smallest carnivore on Earth.
- An animal that chases down and eats another animal.
- A producer that makes its own food through photosynthesis.
- A carnivore in the bear family (2 words).
- A striped carnivore in the cat family.
- The biggest herbivore on Earth.
- A map of who eat whom in an ecosystem is called a food _____.
- A consumer is an _____ that eats what is in its ecosystem.
- A herbivore is an animal that eats only _____.
- A carnivore is an animal that eats only _____.
- A large hooved, herbivore with antlers.