

Goat Breeds

Across

2. Oregon, any color or color combination, no ears, hardy dairy goat.
 7. French Camaroon, light colored body with dark colored legs and face, miniature, both males and females have beards, used as a pet or show goat.
 11. Unknown origin, low maintenance, hardy, true meat goat, white body with light to dark red head, horned with lop ears.
 12. Sexually mature female goat
 13. Castrated Male Goat
 14. Young, sexually immature female goat
 15. Mrs. Vogel's 2nd favorite goat, Switzerland, Dairy Goat, White in color, erect ears.

17. Tennessee and Texas, myotonic response, usually black and white, meat and pet goat, lock up and fall over when startled or frightened.
 18. From Australia, adapted to the wild, strong fiber and milk producer, meat production, produce mohair, cashmere, and leather, used to control weeds and brush.
 19. Switzerland, light to deep red (bay) color with black dorsal stripe, black ears, legs, and belly, with two black stripes down its face, dairy breed.

Down

1. Uncastrated male Goat
 3. West Africa, miniature, any color or combination except silver roan, used as pets
 4. From Spain, can breed year round, any color, hair, or horn combination, meat and cashmere production.

5. From Asia Minor, dates back to Moses, white with long, curly hair, produces mohair, are shown at the county show.
 6. From England, variety of colors and color combinations, large droopy ears, polled, used for meat, hide, and milk.
 8. Switzerland, oldest known dairy breed, light to dark silver brown color with two white stripes on face, white hind legs and tail base, erect ears.
 9. From India, white to cream colored with horns, produces one of the world's finest fibers, only sheared once a year.
 10. United States, hardy, highly efficient, dual purpose, known for triplets and quadruplets but quintuplets and sextuplets are common.
 16. From France Alpine, all colors and color combinations, very adaptable dairy goat.