Name: _____ Date: _____

Disease and Parasites 4.02

Across

8. Disease produced by infection of Toxoplasma gondii parasite and spread through contaminated litter or cat feces.

9. Is a fungal skin disease that shows up as round, scaly, encrusted lesions on the skin, hair may be lost.

10. A tick-transmitted bacterial disease that results in a rash, distinctive skin lesion, hives and flu-like symptoms.

11. Are occasionally carried by dogs and cats and may cause AHD which can be fatal to humans if unnoticed for years.

Down

1. Causes coagulation of the blood.

2. Is a non-serious disease associated with cat bites and scratches that result in swelling and soreness around the bite or scratch.

3. Is a disease that results from an infection of Salmonella bacteria and may be transmitted to humans and other animals.

4. Seven species carry rocky mountain-spotted fever and five species most often carry Zysore disease.

5. Is a disease contracted by caged birds such as parrots, budgerigars, and related birds.

6. Scientific name is Ascarids. They are roundworms that affect dogs and cats, may be passed on to humans causing fever, headache, cough, and poor appetite.

7. A viral disease that affects the nervous system.