

Stage Terms

- Across
- Objects used on stage during a performance
 - A genre of theater which includes short sketches, songs, and dances
 - A stage that's slanted up from front to back
 - Traditional Japanese drama with stylized song, mime, and dance
 - The process of changing an actor's pitch or tone
 - A poster advertising a theatrical performance
 - A tone with no expression that remains the same pitch
 - Someone responsible for lighting and technology of a play
 - The front of a stage
 - Someone who prompts/cues actors who forget lines or stage positioning
 - A mark typically made with tape on a stage floor
 - Dramatic entertainment in which background music plays while mimes express meaning through gestures
 - The final night of a performance when sets are taken down
 - Right from the point of view of an actor on a stage facing the audience
 - Someone who dances in a series of steps and moves
- Down
- The precise staging of actors
 - A genre of drama which includes dancing and singing as an essential part
 - The act of speaking or expressing
 - A sensational dramatic piece that appeals to emotions
 - Conversation between two or more people
 - Someone who writes plays
 - Manages finances and functions of a production
 - A speech by one actor that's long and typically tedious
 - The back of the stage from the audience's perspective
 - Person in charge of supervising actors, staff, and camera crew
 - Left from the point of view of an actor on a stage facing the audience
 - The rhythm and timing of a drama
 - Sides of a stage used for scenery, performer preparation and circulation; referred to as offstage right and offstage left