Endocrine Disorders

Across

1. Lacking in vitamin D results in weak, soft bones, along with slowed growth and skeletal development.
2. A disorder that causes a person to produce too much urine.
3. Low blood sugar
4. Releasing of too little Cortisol
5. The thyroid gland produces too much thyroid hormone leading to weight loss.
6. Overproduction of Aldosterone
7. Decreased bodily growth due to hormonal problems
8. Too much growth hormone
9. Adult form of Cretinism
10. Mood disorders characterized by depression that occurs at the same time every year
11. Unwanted male pattern hair on a woman's face, chest, and back
12. A type of Hyperthyroidism due to thyroid deficiency
13. Swelling of the neck due to thyroid gland enlargement
14. Abnormal growth
15. A condition by intermittent muscular spasms called by malfunctions in the thyroid gland
16. A condition produced in genetically males by the failure of tissue to respond to male sex hormones
17. A result of the decrease in cortisol and aldosterone hormones
18. Overproduction of Pituitary gland hormones

Down

1. Lactation
2. A type of Hyperthyroidism due to thyroid deficiency
3. Lack in insulin production
4. Decreased bodily growth due to hormonal problems
5. A result of the decrease in cortisol and aldosterone hormones
6. A condition produced in genetically males by the failure of tissue to respond to male sex hormones
7. A type of Hyperthyroidism due to thyroid deficiency
8. Too much growth hormone
9. Adult form of Cretinism
10. Mood disorders characterized by depression that occurs at the same time every year
11. Unwanted male pattern hair on a woman's face, chest, and back
12. A type of Hyperthyroidism due to thyroid deficiency
13. Swelling of the neck due to thyroid gland enlargement
14. Abnormal growth
15. A condition by intermittent muscular spasms called by malfunctions in the thyroid gland
16. A condition produced in genetically males by the failure of tissue to respond to male sex hormones
17. A result of the decrease in cortisol and aldosterone hormones
18. Overproduction of Pituitary gland hormones

Name: __________________________   Date: ___________   Period: _____