

General Financial Literacy Vocabulary

Across

3. Receiving something passed down from your parents or other elder relative.
7. Include various types of non-wage compensation provided to employees in addition to their normal wages or salaries.
8. Goals that are achievable in the immediate future.
9. Typically work that includes manual labor.
12. A sum of money that is paid to an employee upon completion of a task usually selling a certain amount of goods or services.
13. A financial holding that is purchased with the expectation of increased value.
14. The basic economic principle that people have unlimited wants but resources are limited.
15. Instances where an employee exchanges (cash) wages for some other form of benefit.
16. The social science that studies how people use their limited resources in satisfaction of their limitless wants.

Down

1. The subset of Economics that describes the management and study of money, banking, credit, investments, assets, and liabilities.
2. The ability to put off something mildly pleasurable now in order to wait for something that is greatly rewarding later.
4. Real or potential costs associated with missed opportunities based on choices made.
5. Money gained from labor(work), business, or property.
6. Profession or field of employment for which one has received extensive training.
10. Work typically done in a professional type environment like an office.
11. Goals that take more than five years to accomplish.