

Name: _____

Date: _____

Math of Money Vocabulary

Across

3. To obtain agreement between your check register and the bank statement
 5. Subtractions made from your gross pay for yourself and every other person you support
 8. Discounts offered by businesses in the form of money given back to the customer, usually through the mail
 9. A check or deposit that appears in your check register but has not reached the bank in time to be listed on your statement
 14. A personal number on a bankcard that gives you access to your bank account electronically
 15. Interest paid only on the original principal
 16. The amount of money paid for the use of money

17. Discount offered by businesses in the form of tickets that are redeemed at the time of purchase

19. Money taken out of a bank account
 20. The portion of an item's purchase price that you pay at the time of buying when you purchase the item with an installment loan

Down

1. Regular expenses that do not vary from month to month, such as rent and car payments
 2. Routine expenses, such as food, utilities, and clothing that vary from month to month
 4. Regular deposits made at the beginning of the period. Money immediately starts earning interest

6. Federal health insurance program to provide hospitalization and medical services for people over 65

7. Money left after expenses have been deducted from gross profits

10. A record of monthly expenditures
 11. A Federal Government program to pay for retirement and disability benefits, financed by taxes

12. The amount of money on which interest is paid

13. Record of an account sent by a bank or other business listing all transactions that have been recorded during a specified period of time

18. To write checks in excess of the amount of money in a checking account