

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Community ecology crossword

Across

8. Community goes through predictable stages resulting in a stable end point
 9. Number of species in a community
 10. Both organisms benefit from this relationship
 11. Lions and hyenas both prey on zebras
 12. Gradual sequential re growth of a community of species in an area
 13. Close long term relationship between two organisms

15. One organism benefits while the other is unaffected

16. Tapeworms , heart worms , and lice are all examples of

Down

1. The After the area the more species it has the smaller the area the less species it has
 2. Species that predominates early in succession
 3. Sequential replacement of species that follows disruption of an existing community

4. Events that change communities , remove or destroy organisms from communities , or alter avilibility of resources

5. An individual of one species eats all or part of an individual of a different species

6. Development of community in an rea that has not previously supported life

7. Relative abundance of each species

14. Tendency of a community to maintain relatively constant conditions