

Name: _____

Date: _____

Wound management

Across

3. When we use products like therahoney, silvasorb, hydrogels we are _____ the wound.

4. If a wound is unstageable, the depth will always be noted as _____.

6. Soft, adherent, white tissue on top of a wound is called _____.

7. What are alginates made from?

9. Hard, firm, dead tissue on a wound bed is called _____.

13. ROHO cushions, repositioning, moisture balance are all forms of _____.

14. When managing wounds, it is important to take a _____ approach.

15. The LTCHA indicates wounds are to be assessed every _____ days.

17. A wound is considered healed when the skin is completely _____.

19. What is the term used to describe when we "pull edges of a wound together"?

20. What type of product is maxorb extra?

Down

1. The difference between a stage 2 pressure injury and MASD is a stage 2 is localized and MASD is _____.

2. What does PURS stand for?

5. When the periwound is too wet, this is known as _____?

8. Purulent, foul smelling drainage is an indication of _____.

10. What lab level is of "high priority" for wound healing?

11. Non blanchable erythema on a pressure area is what stage of wound?

12. A pressure injury where bone is visible is a stage _____.

16. When working toward healing a wound, the wound should be as moist as what body part?

18. A bruise is considered what type of wound?