Across
5. Optimum level that would allow most people to live in reasonable comfort and freedom without impairing the ability of the planet to sustain future generations
9. As countries become industrialized their death rates and then their birth rates decline
10. The average number of children that couples in a population must bear to replace themselves
11. The distribution of males and females among age groups in a population
12. The number of deaths per 1,000 people in a population in a given year

Down
1. What provides educational and clinical services that help couples choose how many children to have and when to have them?
2. The number of people leaving a population subtracted from the people entering a population during a specific period of time gives you this
3. The number of children per 1,000 live births who die before one year of age
4. The average number of children born to women in a population during their reproductive years
6. The number of live births per 1,000 people in a population in a given year
7. The average number of years a newborn infant can expect to live
8. The movement of people into and out of specific geographical areas