

Name: _____

Date: _____

Medical Assistant

Across

3. multi-skilled members of the health care team who perform administrative and clinical procedures under the supervision of licensed health care providers"

4. Which position is it when the patient will sit on the exam table without back support.

7. What type of responsibility is performing Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments (CLIA) waived tests?

8. position can be used to examine the back, feet, and musculoskeletal system. The patient will lie flat on his or her stomach with the head turned to the side.

9. The patient lies on the left side with right arm and right leg bent in front of them so the patient's weight is resting on his or her chest.

10. Member of the healthcare team

12. patients who are having respiratory issues; the patient is sitting up at a 90-degree angle with legs extended.

13. mainly outlines safety standards in the workplace.

14. used for pelvic exams or pap smears. The patient is placed face up with feet in stirrups.

15. position can be used for rectal, perineal, or proctologic exams. With the knee-chest position, the patient is placed on the table facedown and supporting the body with knees and chest.

16. One of the organizations that set standards for quality and performance within the profession and can impact the medical assistants career.

17. patient is placed into the supine position on a tilted table with the head lower than the legs.

18. What type of responsibility is scheduling appointments/ answering telephone?

Down

1. What type of responsibility is greeting patients and basic understanding of medical terminology

2. What type of responsibility is assisting during examinations/ phlebotomy?

5. As a rule of thumb, a medical assistant should not do anything that he or she has not been trained to do

6. position is used to examine the head, neck, chest, heart, abdomen, arms, and legs. The patient is laying face up, flat on his or her back.

11. patient for an abdominal examination and is sometimes used instead of the lithotomy position. The patient is laying face up with his or her knees bent.