Medical Terminology

Across
5. the flu shot is an example of an injection that goes into a muscle. The medical term for this type of injection is:
6. Pain on the inside of the knee may indicate an injury to this ligament
9. You are writing a note for a patient who is seeing you after surgery. This is a __________-op note
10. A patient with an eye injury or disease would be referred to this specialist
11. in the term for the disease fibromyalgia, the part of the term "myalgia" refers to
12. You ask your patient, "what happened?" in order to determine the MOI. What does MOI stand for?
13. what type of questions should you ask when taking a history?
14. medical term that describes inflammation of a tendon
15. blood in a joint cavity is referred to as:
16. this abbreviation can be used to define either gloves (used during wound care) or a health screening prior to sports participation
17. Descriptive term that means away from the trunk
18. A patch that administers medicine across the skin (i.e. nicotine patch) can be described as
19. a condition of a crooked or bent vertebral column is also known as
20. which range of motion does the clinician perform for the patient?
21. When assessing the need for CPR, one would first check for breathing and circulation, often referred to as:
22. this abbreviation is used when the patient has normal exam results or is within normal limits
23. the prefix term that means "ligament"
24. the medical term for "under the skin"
25. This tool measures joint angles
26. a fast pulse or heart rate would be called
27. this abbreviation is used to describe the primary problem or complaint of the patient
28. documented in the "plan" section of a SOAP note, the short term goals are abbreviated as:
29. to describe the tissue surrounding a wound you would use the prefix:
30. You are writing a note and want to indicate that the patient has full active range of motion. What abbreviation do you use?
31. normal limits
32. to describe the tissue surrounding a wound you would use the prefix:
33. a condition of a crooked or bent vertebral column is also known as
34. Your patient just had ACL surgery. What structure was repaired?
35. This abbreviation is used when a patient is able to walk without assistance or to describe the primary problem or complaint of the patient
36. suffix with the meaning "pertaining to"

Down
1. What is a common format for documentation?
2. the prefix term that means "ligament"
3. The medical term for "under the skin"
4. The note indicates a limit of ADL. What is the patient having trouble with?
5. this abbreviation is used to describe the primary problem or complaint of the patient
6. a concusion does not always result in a loss of consciousness, which is abbreviated as:
7. this abbreviation is used when the patient has normal exam results or is within normal limits
8. type of physician that specializes in heart conditions
9. a patient with low back pain
10. this abbreviation is used when a patient is able to walk without assistance or to describe the primary problem or complaint of the patient
11. a fast pulse or heart rate would be called
12. you would examine a patient's skin color for a yellow tint, which is also called
13. what type of questions should you ask when taking a history?
14. medical term that describes inflammation of a tendon
15. blood in a joint cavity is referred to as:
16. this abbreviation can be used to define either gloves (used during wound care) or a health screening prior to sports participation
17. descriptive term that means away from the trunk
18. A patch that administers medicine across the skin (i.e. nicotine patch) can be described as
19. a condition of a crooked or bent vertebral column is also known as
20. which range of motion does the clinician perform for the patient?