

Name: _____

Date: _____

Literary Terms Review

Across

8. the foundation of a short story
 9. time and place; mood and tone
 11. The central character that drives the action. Must solve the problem
 12. the narrator tells what the characters say, do, and think
 15. in the middle of things; told with flashbacks
 16. character changes at some point in the story
 17. The point the author makes with his story

19. a character who appears so often in literature that his or her nature is immediately familiar

Down

1. told in chronological order from beginning to end
 2. the narrator tells what one character says, does and thinks
 3. the narrator is a minor character, is in the story, but not of the story
 4. the narrator tells what the characters say and do only
 5. final outcome or conclusion of a story

6. The process by which the writer reveals the personality of a character

7. the narrator is a character within the story that tells it as if it happened to him/her personally. The character is an active part of the story
 10. whatever created the problem in the story
 13. a struggle between two opposing force
 14. short in length; can be read in one sitting; fictional
 18. character does not change