

SocSci2: Lesson 8 QUIZ

Across

2. type of residence pattern allows the couple to choose to live either with the wife's mother's area or the husband's father's area.

9. this type of family consists of several parents and their children.

11. this arrangement allows both spouses to remain with their own households after marriage.

12. allows an individual to be affiliated to the descent of one sex group only - either the male or female.

13. ties with the nuclear family can be extended to family members of the spouses.

14. the individual who forms the central reference point in a kinship diagram.

15. a marriage practice that allows a man to marry several women.

Down

1. defined as the "socially or ritually union or legal contract between spouses that establishes rights and obligations between a parent and their children.

3. complex residency pattern as it requires two residence transfers.

4. refers to the "web of social relationships".

5. an individual traces his or her kinship through the female's line only.

6. a marriage pattern wherein a woman is allowed to marry several men.

7. this type of family has several married couples and their children living in one household.

8. the woman is expected to transfer to the residence of her husband's father.

10. this type of family consists of a single couple and their child or children.