

Name: _____

Date: _____

america becomes a world power

Across

2. the policy or doctrine of isolating one's country from the affairs of other nations by declining to enter into alliances

4. an article in a newspaper or other periodical or on a website presenting the opinion of the publisher, writer, or editor.

9. any of various submarine explosive devices for destroying hostile ships, as a mine.

12. one of a class of warships of medium tonnage, designed for high speed and long cruising radius

16. the line at the top of a page, containing the title, pagination

18. the deliberate spreading of such information, rumors, etc.

20. a non-fiction literary peice that forms part of a publication

21. an artificial waterway for navigation

22. the title of a newspaper which is usally followed by a tag-line

24. dishonest in editorial comment and the presentation of news, especially in sacrificing truth for sensationalism

25. a statement of U.S. foreign policy expressing opposition to extension of European control or influence in the western hemisphere

Down

1. who the article is by

3. an acute, often fatal, infectious febrile disease of warm climates, caused by an RNA virus transmitted by a mosquito

5. the expantion of a country by colonising weaker countries

6. any obstruction of passage or progress

7. comics that are based on something political that shows the opinion of the cartoonist

8. sudden unexpected attacks carried out by an unofficial military group or groups that are trying to change the government by assaults on the armed forces

10. the members of a volunteer regiment of cavalry organized by Theodore Roosevelt and Leonard Wood for service in the Spanish-American War.

11. Archaic. unwholesome or poisonous air.

13. a state or nation in which the supreme power is actually or nominally lodged in a monarch.

14. any of a class of warships that are the most heavily armored and are equipped with the most powerful armament

15. a treaty signed in 1763 by France, Spain, and Great Britain that ended the Seven Years' War and the French and Indian War.

17. a contrivance for fastening or securing something.

19. the act or an instance of annexing, or adding to something larger, especially the incorporation of new territory into the domain of a city, country, or state.

23. an explosive device used to destroy enemy land, fortification, or equipment