

Name: _____

Date: _____

Trichology Review

Across

2. The number of hairs per square inch is referred to as ____.
3. The hair's ability to stretch and return is referred to as ____.
6. What is the process whereby cells change their shape, dry out and form keratin protein?
11. The three stages of hair growth include ____, catagen and telogen.
12. The inner most layer of the hair.
13. General hair loss is referred to as ____.
14. The hair's ability to absorb moisture is called ____.
17. Ringwork is an example of an external ____.

18. Oil or sebaceous glands produce ____.

20. Technical name for eyebrows.

22. The degree of coarseness or fineness in the hair fiber is referred to as ____.

24. The shape of the ____ will determine the shape of the hair.

Down

1. The type of alopecia experienced after childbirth is known as ____ alopecia.

4. Baby fine hair is referred to as ____.

5. Which of the three stages of hair growth is the resting stage?

7. On the pH scale, 7 is considered ____.

8. The ____ is filled with capillaries that supply nourishment to the germinal matrix cells around it.

9. Technical term for gray hair.

10. Hair is made up primarily of ____.

15. Clear, protective portion of the hair shaft.

16. Pityriasis is the technical name for ____.

19. The inner-most layer of the hair.

21. Shampoos with a high ____ can make the hair dry and brittle.

23. You should always begin brushing the hair from the ____ first.