

Name: _____

Date: _____

Harlem Renaissance

Across

7. An immigrant from Jamaica, believed that Africans Americans should build a separate society.

8. A poet, lawyer, and NAACP secretary who fought for African-American rights.

9. A female blues singer, was recognized as the most out standing vocalist in the decade.

10. A girl who lived in Eatonville, Florida who loved to read adventure stories and myths. The powerful tales stuck a chord with the young, talented Hurston and made her yearn for a wider world.

Down

1. The best-known poet in the 1920's who described the African-American struggles.

2. A jazz pianist and composer who led the Cotton Club.

3. A literary and artistic movement celebrating African-American culture.

4. A dramatic actor who was the son of a one-time slave. Who later struggled with racism in the United States.

5. A novelist poet, and Jamaican immigrant, a major figure whose militant verses urged African Americans to resist racism.

6. A young trumpet in 1922 who joined the Oliver's group which later became known as the Creole Jazz Band.