

chapter 22: Equipping the Kitchen

Across

5. uses convection currents created by air rising as it warms fan circulates heated air to equalize temperatures thought oven.
7. financial arrangement that delays payment.
12. yearly interest rate charged when buying item.
14. repair and maintenance insurance purchased to cover product for specific length of time.
16. minimizes risk of electric shock by providing path for current to travel back through electrical system rather than through person's body.

18. amount of money borrowed after deducting down payment from total purchase price.

19. countertop extension open on two sides and one end.

20. total amount paid for borrowing expressed as dollar figure.

Down

1. fee paid for borrowed money.
2. areas designed and equipped for specific kitchen tasks such as cooking.
3. activity that starts with removing food from storage and continues to preparation and serving.
4. home design that makes space usable for everyone regardless of age or physical disability.

6. energy sources in a range.

8. manufacturers guarantee that product will perform as advertised

9. portion of purchase price paid right away when buying on credit.

10. equipment for cooking food in oven.

11. bright shadow free light over specific work areas

13. tool for estimating appliances energy costs.

15. arrangement that connects the three main work centers.

17. freestanding counter open on all sides and often in center of kitchen.