Name: _____ Date: _____

Literary Terms Review Puzzle

Across

3. The setting can be the cause of a...

6. A narrator that uses I, me, or we

10. The turning point of a narrative

16. The opposite of what is expected to occur

17. A message about life or human nature that the author wants you to understand

18. Can influence a theme by how they act or what they learn

20. Plot stage in which we learn about the characters, setting, and a hint of the conflict

23. The time and place of a narrative

24. A struggle in a character's mind

25. A plot stage in which tension increases

Down

1. Can have an influence on the character's beliefs, values, and job opportunities

2. Themes that appear repeatedly in literature

4. Narration that has access to all characters' thoughts and actions

5. A narrator that knows the thoughts and feelings of only one character

7. The way an author wants the reader to feel

8. The voice that tells the story

9. Reveals the story's final outcome

11. Narration that is personal and might be infused with opinion

12. A struggle between a character and an outside force

13. The sequence of events in a narrative

14. Can suggest an important idea or symbol that is central to the theme

15. A story that explains human nature or how things came to be

19. An object, activity, place, or person that stands for something beyond iteslf

21. A point of view that is unbiased; without opinions

22. Descriptions that appeal to the five senses