

Name: _____

Date: _____

Unit THREE

Across

2. These meds neutralize stomach acid and provide symptom relief in GERD pts
5. This diet program has been successful for decades, using a points system and support group to promote healthy eating
6. This type of hernia if pressed on will go back into the abdomen
7. Blood in stools
10. Condition where lower part of esophagus and portion of the stomach move into thoracic cavity
13. This weight loss procedure is reversible, it involves a band wrapped around upper part of stomach to decrease amount of food that can be taken in
17. This weight loss drug blocks 30% of fat from being absorbed in the GI tract and is available in a lower dose over the counter
21. This test monitors pH for 24 hours, is placed in endoscopy and excreted naturally.
23. A non surgical procedure using magnets that allow food to pass the LES by separating and then closing again, preventing backflow

24. This drug is a non-amphetamine appetite suppression that signals CNS to suppress appetite
26. This class of drugs block the final pathway of acid production and decrease acidity
27. This type of ulcers occur in patients in the ICU, burn pts, trauma pts and septic patients.
29. This procedure is done laparoscopic or open, wraps top of stomach around esophagus in pts with GERD
30. This type of hernia produces greatest risk of strangulation, and also requires immediate surgery

Down

1. Inflammation of the stomach mucosa
3. A "Fat apron" resulting from heavy fat not having anywhere to go, may go over thighs
4. One reason for obesity is that the person may have a resistance to this hormone that typically increases energy expenditure and produces satiety
8. The presence of one or more gallstones
9. Acute or chronic inflammation of gallbladder

11. Number one cause of peptic ulcer disease
12. This type of herniation reduces blood supply to part of bowel. May cause bowels to become obstructed
14. This therapy for weight loss helps patients control external cues that stimulate overeating and changes goals to be more realistic
15. This weight loss drug suppresses appetite by triggering a serotonin release
16. blood in your vomit
18. when an organ rupture or leaks into the peritoneal cavity this life threatening condition may occur
19. Backwards flow of gastric contents into the esophagus
20. Irreversible procedure that turns the stomach into an egg sized pouch formed by the top of the stomach, duodenum and remaining stomach are attached to jejunum
22. Type of hernia associated with young boys due to testes descending into scrotum prior to birth
25. This drug treats H pylori by disrupting the cell wall killing bacteria
28. First sign of peritonitis