

Name: _____

Date: _____

4 points crossword

Across

6. a state of consciousness resulting from a narrowed focus of attention and characterized by heightened suggestibility

7. the awareness of one's own cognitive processes

8. the action of filling in memory with statements that make sense but that may be untrue

11. techniques of memorizing information by forming vivid associations or images, which facilitate recall and decrease forgetting

12. the ability to remember with great accuracy visual information on the basis of short-term exposure

13. a type of learning that involves stimulus response connections in which the response is conditional on the stimulus

Down

1. methods of conduct or standards for proper and responsible behavior

2. all the people in your generation

3. the seclusion from the conscious awareness of a painful unpleasant or undesirable memory

4. the process of learning behavior through observation and imitation of others; copying behavior

5. the belief that the proper subject matter of psychology is objectively observable behavior and nothing else

9. severe loss or deterioration of memory that occurs after damage to the brain following drug abuse or severe psychological stress

10. the apparent sudden realization or understanding of the solution to a problem