

Name: _____

Date: _____

Nonfiction Terms

Across

4. numbers used to compare things
 8. an informal speech presented in a conversational style
 9. a nonfiction text that the speaker delivers orally
 13. a speech presented without much preparation
 15. the reuse of a key word
 16. details that tell what something looks like, tastes like, sounds like, etc.
 17. the expression of the same idea but in different words

18. specific cases of people, situations, etc.

19. the use of similar grammatical structures

21. the perspective of the author

Down

1. questions that have obvious answer and are only asked for effect
 2. to inform, to persuade, and to entertain are examples of this
 3. language not meant to be taken literally
 5. the judgments of people with special knowledge of a subject

6. an essay that tells the story of actual experiences

7. an essay that tries to influence an audience's attitudes or actions

10. statements that can be proven true

11. language that is specific to a discipline

12. a central idea about a topic

14. an essay that explores the meaning of an experience or offers the author's thoughts and feelings

20. the author's attitude toward a subject