

cognitive learning and memory

Across

4. learning that can happen without reinforcement is called what?
 5. learning new behavior through watching
 8. tendency to fail to escape from a situation because of history of repeated failures
 9. looking at or hearing information to bring forth a memory( second retrieval method)

11. learning can take place without actual performance is called
 12. holding information for a period of time
 13. stacking information in sets to help remember it is called
 14. knowledge learned in school or by reading is called

Down

1. memories for trivial skills such as tying shoes, and riding a bike is called

2. active system that recieves info from senses
 3. one of two retrieval methods (memories retrieved with few or no external cues)
 6. memorys that are representent of a persons life are called
 7. retrieving information from storage
 10. set of mental opeations people perfrom on sensory info to convert into a usable form