Across
4. This bacterium contributes to the disease we know as "kennel cough", it is extremely contagious to other dogs.
5. A parasite, bacteria, or virus that can be passed from animals to humans.
7. Lyme disease, Anaplasmosis, and Ehrlichiosis are some diseases transmitted by these.
9. To get infected with these, your pet must ingest contaminated stool samples or hunt wildlife. They are zoonotic.
10. A very small, unique and permanent I.D. implanted under the surface of a pet’s skin.
12. This microscopic single-celled organism lives in the small intestine, it comes from contaminated water.

Down
1. Transmitted through infected mosquitoes. Prevention for this is highly recommended.
2. This prevents unwanted pregnancies, behaviors and health issues related to the reproductive system.
3. The bacteria in charge of this disease is spread through urine of infected animals. It is zoonotic.
6. The best way to ensure your pets health (routinely).
8. Medical insurance for your pet.
11. Your pet is exposed to this from being bit by an infected animal. It is a deadly disease and vaccination is a requirement.