INFECTION CONTROL 2018

Across

1. The name of the virus that causes respiratory infections typically between Oct and April
5. When you put your hands to your face this can cause the transfer of _____
7. What type of vaccine should we all be taking in October/November?
13. What is used to take your temperature
16. Never _____ needles after use
18. The overuse of antibiotics can cause antibiotic _____
19. You should wash your hands for at least this many seconds
20. What is best to wash visibly dirty hands with?
21. _____ is your body's first line of defense against infection
22. You should sneeze into your _____
23. The number one intervention to break the chain of infection
24. Hands must be _____ if they are visibly soiled

Down

2. The separation of infected persons from others
3. Often prescribed by your physician to fight infection
4. What PPE must be removed first?
6. This type of juice is noted to help with urinary tract infections
8. These should be kept trimmed and clean at all times
9. These pesky critters can cause itchy scalp and are easily transferred to others
10. The type of disease which can be carried on very small droplets or dust particles that float in the air
11. These precautions include gowns, gloves, masks, and sometimes eyewear.
12. Who is responsible for infection prevention in the home?
14. You should preform hand _____ after using the washroom and before eating.
15. If friends and family are ill they should not _____
17. This is used to bring your fever down