

[illegible]

5. The different kinds of services provided by financial institutions such as banks, credit unions, insurance companies and other similar businesses.
6. A plastic card used to purchase items that is paid back with interest.
7. The deposit of wages directly into a bank account.
8. Any business providing financial services.
10. A bank or credit union account that allows withdrawals by writing a check.

1. A company that guarantees compensation for specific forms of loss, damage, injury or death.
2. A plastic card used to deduct a purchase amount directly from a checking account; also called a check card.
3. A state or federally chartered , not-for-profit financial cooperative that provides financial services to its members who meet specific requirements.
4. A business owned by stockholders that provides financial services.
9. Another name for Automatic Teller Machine

Checking account
creditunion bank
Financial services

Automatic deposit
Financial institution
debit card

ATM
credit card
Insurance Company